WALALA VINEYARD

PINOT NOIR

Pronounced “Wa-la-la” overlooking the town of Gualala...also pronounced Walala by the locals, this wine is almost as fun to say as it is to drink. Out of the three estates that comprise the Heritage vineyards of Three Sticks, this is closest to the ocean- sitting just 6 miles from the coast. Walala is perched above the coast, sometimes happily at the fog line, so it enjoys enough warmth to ripen year after year. Located in what purists would call the “true,” wild, westernmost part of the Sonoma Coast AVA, our Walala is the epitome of vitality and vigor. This wine captures the spirit of the coast with a spicy nose that lingers briefly before savory caramelized pecans, strawberry compote, and a hint of pink peppercorn blend together to enchant you. Walala always steals the show.
