WALALA VINEYARD

Sonoma Coast Pinot Noir

This is the second year we've made a vineyard designated Pinot Noir from this phenomenal site and we couldn't be happier with the results. Brimming with black fruits, dark chocolate, pink peppercorn and rhubarb, this wine is not shy about showing off its muscle. Deep and structured, it also has a savory note that suggests charcuterie or coffee. This mountain fruit is grown very close to the Pacific Ocean, expressing a note of salinity in the wine that leads to a bright, long finish. Do not be afraid to cellar this wine - it will bring joy right away and for many years.

We believe in stewardship of the land, the vineyards, and the people. We are for real connections, real history, real wines; experiences you will never forget. We welcome you to our home, the Adobe, for an historic tasting in Sonoma.
