THREE STICKS

HISTORY

*We believe in stewardship of the land, the vineyards, and the people.
We are for real connections, real history, real wines; experiences you will never forget.*

Three Sticks Wines is a boutique, family-owned winery led by veteran Director of Winemaking, Bob Cabral. Cabral's commitment to crafting small-lot, artisanal wines from exceptional Sonoma Coast vineyards, including estate vineyards, Durell, Gap's Crown, and Walala, drives the winery's focus of creating site-specific wines. Founded in 2002, the winery is named for owner William S. Price III's surfing nickname, "Billy Three Sticks," given to him in his youth as reference to the Roman numerals that follow his name. Three Sticks has a down to earth approach to growing and winemaking, believing in table fellowship as the power of wine to bring people together.

Bill and Eva Price are lovers of Sonoma's grapes and rich history. The Vallejo-Casteñada Adobe (built in 1842) was built by Captain Salvador Vallejo, brother of General Mariano Guadalupe Vallejo, the Commandant of the northern territory of Mexico (modern day Sonoma). The Prices purchased the property in 2012 and embarked on a two-year preservation project. The Three Sticks team worked with Sonoma historians and the Sonoma League for Historic Preservation to restore and protect the fabric of the property. They commissioned San Francisco-based designer, Ken Fulk and his team, to design the ambience of the Adobe, as it is known locally. The historic landmark in downtown Sonoma is now home to the hospitality of Three Sticks.
